Have you ever wondered what it would be like to defend your survey in court? Come find out at a mock trial at the MSPS Winter Seminar. The trial will help surveyors know what actually goes on in court and what pitfalls you might encounter if you are ever brought to trial.

Issues covered will include:

- Quiet title action
- Boundaries adjacent to a meandering river
- Deed vs. occupation
- Prescriptive easements
- Conflicting surveys
- Testimony

The trial will have real lawyers and a real judge to preside over the case. Attendees will act as the jury in the case and have the opportunity to explain their deliberations. The judge and attorneys will also weigh in with an opinion. The judge will discuss the process and procedures in these types of cases and the attorneys will offer guidance and suggestions to those who would testify as expert witnesses. Finally, a presentation will be made on "Being an Expert Witness."

Gary Kent

Gary Kent is in his 34th year with The Schneider Corporation, a surveying, GIS and consulting engineering firm based in Indianapolis, and with offices in North Carolina, Florida, Texas and Iowa. He is long-time chair of both the NSPS committee and the ALTA committee on the ALTA/ACSM (now NSPS) Standards. Gary is a past-president of both ACSM and ISPLS, and from 1999-2006 taught boundary law, legal descriptions, property surveying and land survey systems for Purdue University in Indianapolis. He is in his twelfth year on the Indiana State Board of Registration for Professional Surveyors and is frequently called as an expert witness in cases involving boundaries, easements and land surveying practice. Gary regularly presents programs all across the country on surveying topics, and he writes columns for The American Surveyor magazine and contributes to NSPS News and Views.
